The application notes include recommended starting dilutions; optimal dilutions/concentrations should be determined by the end user.

Application	Abreviews	Notes
WB		Use a concentration of 0.5 µg/ml. Predicted molecular weight: 93 kDa.

Target

Function	Part of the proton channel of V-ATPases (By similarity). Seems to be directly involved in T-cell activation.
Tissue specificity	Isoform long is highly expressed in osteoclastomas. Isoform short is highly expressed in thymus.
Involvement in disease	Defects in TCIRG1 are the cause of osteopetrosis autosomal recessive type 1 (OPTB1) [MIM:259700]; also called autosomal recessive Albers-Schonberg disease or infantile malignant osteopetrosis. Osteopetrosis is a rare genetic disease characterized by abnormally dense bone, due to defective resorption of immature bone. The disorder occurs in two forms: a severe autosomal recessive form occurring in utero, infancy, or childhood, and a benign autosomal dominant form occurring in adolescence or adulthood. The features of OPTB1 are macrocephaly, progressive deafness and blindness, hepatosplenomegaly, and severe anemia beginning in early infancy or in fetal life. Deafness and blindness are generally thought to represent effects of pressure on nerves.
Sequence similarities	Belongs to the V-ATPase 116 kDa subunit family.
Cellular localization	Membrane.
